

You don't have to say you're an economist.
It's written all over your face.

John R. Commons, pioneering economist